

Lynda Calderone to Co-Present at Advanced Patent Valuation Webinar

Press Release

May 6, 2013
Cherry Hill, NJ

Lynda L. Calderone, shareholder with Flaster/Greenberg PC, will present at a webinar on Friday, May 10th on advanced patent valuation. The webinar is sponsored by the Business Development Academy, a professional education provider headquartered in Princeton, New Jersey, and an affiliate of IncreMental Advantage, LLC.

Calderone, co-presenting with two other panelists, will be providing guidance on a wide variety of issues impacting the valuation of patents, including patent claim scope and the impact of prosecution and examination on patent value. She will also address common concerns considered to impact value and when and how such concerns can become significant issues as well as how to focus on red flags impacting value.

Calderone practices intellectual property law, concentrating on patent prosecution, litigation and IP due diligence; IP-related agreements including licenses; and patentability, validity, infringement and unenforceability analyses. She counsels inventors and businesses in portfolio management and development of patent strategies, including conducting IP audits.

Interested parties can register by contacting 609-919-1895 ext. 100 or registration@bdacademy.com. To register online, click here.
